On behalf of the City Council-elect and City Manager Louis DePasquale, the Presiding Officer stated that she was pleased to welcome those who are here with us today, as well as the viewing audience, to witness the swearing in of our newly elected Cambridge City Councillors for the term 2018-2019. MUSICAL PRESENTATION

While awaiting the procession of the Councillors-elect and their ushers a music presentation was performed by Deputy Superintendent Pauline Carter-Wells from the Cambridge Police Department.

The Deputy City Clerk Paula Crane and Executive Assistant to the City Council Sandra Albano escorted the Councillors-elect, with their ushers, into the Sullivan Chamber.

INVOCATION

The Invocation was offered by Bishop Brian Greene from the Pentecostal Tabernacle.

Father we understand that the word Inauguration is derived from a French word meaning “installation and consecration.” So, Father we are here to install these wonderful new councillors: Councillor Carlone, Councillor Devereux, Councillor Kelley, Councillor Mallon, Councillor McGovern, Councillor Siddiqui, Councillor Simmons, Councillor Toomey and Councillor Zondervan. We pray Father that you will set them aside for your use and that you honor them with favor, honor them with grace and help them to lead this City with wisdom. In your name, we ask it. Amen.

MAYORAL SPEECH

At this time Mayor Marc McGovern addressed the City Council and the audience.

I wish to start by thanking my family, especially my wonderful and patient wife, Mary Anne. I love you. I want to thank my children: Nicolas, William, Connor and Addison for all of your sacrifices and being such amazing children. Thank you to my mother and father, my step-mother, and my siblings. And a special thank you to my great-aunt, Eddie who is home watching on TV.

I wish to thank those who helped me return to the City Council. I couldn't possibly name everyone but a special thanks to my core team of Pamela Thilo, Katie Lee, Victoria McGroary, Chase Duffin, Johanna Shulman, Sharron Britton and Jack Mulhern.

I wish to thank my City Council Assistant Jamila Bradley, who has been a tremendous help and will be leaving us in February to start a Master's program at BU. And to Manny Lusardi who has served as my liaison for immigrant affairs. Thank you.

I would like to thank the members of the community, especially those who voted in the municipal election, no matter who you voted for. It was a great turnout and I hope that we can build on that momentum moving forward.

I would like to thank the City Staff for all of their tireless efforts on behalf of our city. There is so much that these folks do that people don't realize. Just last night the City Manager and I were on the phone at 9:00 pm because there was a heating issue in a building, and staff from Inspectional Services left their families on New Year's Eve to take care of it. We have truly dedicated people who work in our city, and I am grateful for all that you do. I would be remiss if I didn't acknowledge that one of those people will be leaving us after 47 years of public service. Can we please all rise and give an ovation to Sandy Albano for her years of service.

Now, I don't need to tell those of you gathered here today what a great city Cambridge is. We are doing things here that most other communities can't even think about. We have a lot to be proud of. Yet despite our best efforts, despite being surrounded by world class universities, being the innovation capital of the world and our AAA bond rating, we have far too many in our community who are not accessing the prosperity that surrounds us. Cambridge has a higher poverty rate than the state average. On any given night, upwards of 500 people are in our shelters or on our streets. Death by overdose doubled from 2015 to 2016, and although we send many of our high school graduates to Ivy League universities, far too many find themselves out of school or not employed just a few years after graduation. So, although we need to take time to acknowledge and appreciate our accomplishments, of which there are many, we must never be complacent, because there are still far too many of our friends and neighbors who are struggling.

I've spent a lot of time thinking about how we move forward as a community, a city staff, a council and a school committee to meet these challenges. What I keep coming back to as an inspiration was something that may seem a bit strange.

When I was growing up, I had the pleasure of playing Cambridge Youth Soccer. I was on the same team with pretty much the same kids from the time I was 12 to 18. Our team was named: Cambridge United. As a team, we were a true representation of the Cambridge community. We came from different neighborhoods. We were different races, cultures and religious. You were just as likely to hear plays called out in Spanish, Portuguese or Creole as you were in English. And although we were teenagers, we took great pride in putting on that uniform and what it represented, especially when we travelled to towns like Needham, Wellesley and Lexington. We were proud of our diversity and our common goals. When I thought about what I wanted for us moving forward, that team name kept coming to mind. Cambridge United.

The name appeals to me because I believe that there is much more than unites us as a community then divides us.

I believe we are united in our desire for Cambridge to be a diverse and affordable city. I believe we are united in our desire for every Cambridge Public School student to receive a world class education. I believe we are united in our desire to ensure that every resident, regardless of legal status, age, race, sexual identity or zip code is safe in our community. And I know we are united in resisting and rejecting the racism, sexism and hatred that is plaguing our country.

Now, being united in our ultimate goals does not mean that we will always agree on how to achieve them, in fact I can promise you that we won't. Being united does not mean that we won't get frustrated with each other from time to time, I can promise you that we will. Being united does not mean that individually or collectively we won't make mistakes, I can promise you that we will do that as well.

But during those times of disagreement, frustration or mistake, let us not forget what binds us together as a community. Let us not forget that all of us: councillors, school committee members, city administrators, city employees and community members all care deeply about our city. We are all united in our desire for Cambridge to be a socially and economically just community for all who live here. That is how we are going to move forward. This is how we are going to reach our ultimate, shared goals.

This is the first time I have sworn in without my grandmother here to see it. She passed away a year and a half ago at the age of 99.

When I think about the type of Mayor I want to be I think about my grandmother. She was respectful but firm when necessary. She was smart but knew that she didn't have all the answers. She was grounded in her values but always willing to listen to others.

This is what I pledge to you. To be respectful but firm. To approach issues intelligently but know enough to ask questions. To be true to my values of social and economic justice but be willing to listen to others.

To my colleagues on the City Council, I thank you for your faith in me. It is truly an honor to be elected by my colleagues. I believe this is a very special Council. We're special because we are a mix of new members, with four or less years of service, who bring new energy, and we are also guided by the experience and wisdom of three members, in Councillors Simmons, Toomey and Kelley who have a combined total of 48 years on the City Council. I want to give a special thank you to Mayor Simmons, who led this city for the past two years through some challenging times, not the least of which was the horrible Berkshire Street fire that left so many homeless during the holidays. And your leadership in bringing the City together in the face of changes in Washington, which left many residents fearful for their future, was truly inspiring.

Thank you all again for the opportunity to serve as Mayor for the city I love. I will not take your faith in me for granted and I will work as hard as I can to be a Mayor you can be proud of. Thank you.

ELECTION OF VICE MAYOR

The City Council now proceeded to the election of the Vice Mayor.

BALLOT NUMBER ONE

FOR COUNCILLOR JAN DEVEREUX

Councillors Carlone, Devereux, Mayor McGovern, Councillors Siddiqui and Zondervan - 5 in number

FOR COUNCILLOR E. DENISE SIMMON

Councillors Kelley, Mallon, Simmons and Councillor Toomey - 4 in number

The City Clerk asked if there were any changes or corrections.

At this time Councillor Mallon changed her vote to Councillor Devereux and was so recorded.

Councillor Kelley changed his vote to Councillor Devereux and was so recorded.

The City Clerk asked if there were any changes or corrections – hearing none the Presiding Officer announced the result of Ballot Number One as follows:

FOR COUNCILLOR JAN DEVEREUX

Councillors Carlone, Devereux, Kelley, Mallon, Mayor McGovern, Councillors Siddiqui and Zondervan - 7 in number

FOR COUNCILLOR E. DENISE SIMMON

Councillors Simmons and Councillor Toomey - 2 in number

At this time, the Presiding Officer struck the gavel three times and declared that Councillor Jan Devereux has been elected Vice Mayor of the City of Cambridge for the term 2018-2019.

The City Clerk requested Councillor Carlone to escort the Vice Mayor-elect to the rostrum for the administration of the oath of office.

At this time the City Clerk asked the Vice Mayor-elect if she was willing to accept and assume the duties of the Vice Mayor of the City of Cambridge?

Vice Mayor-elect Jan Devereux responded in the affirmative.

At this time, the City Clerk administered the following oath of office:

OATH OF OFFICE OF VICE MAYOR

I, Jan Devereux, do solemnly swear, that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, and will support the Constitution thereof.

So help me God.

I, Jan Devereux, do solemnly swear and affirm that I will faithfully and impartially discharge and perform all the duties incumbent on me as Vice Mayor of the City of Cambridge according to the best of my ability and understanding agreeably to the rules and regulations of the Constitution and the laws of this Commonwealth.

VICE MAYOR SPEECH

At this time Vice Mayor Jan Devereux addressed the City Council and the audience.

Vice Mayor Devereux wanted to thank everyone. This is a tremendous honor to be in this position. I look forward to being part of Cambridge United with our new Mayor and especially with our new councillors joining us and the returning councillors. I think we are going to be a great team and I think that we are going to build bridges and are going to unite the city because we have to. We have some huge challenges facing us as a city and as a country. And I want to do everything I can to bring people together. Thank you all. Thank you to my family for being here and thank you to Nora who has been a wonderful aide for the last two years. Happy New Year everyone.

At this time Councillor Simmons submitted the following order, the question being on adoption, to wit:

ORDERED: That the City Council Rules for 2016-2017 be adopted as the City Council Rules for 2018-2019 provisionally in an effort for the City Council to have an opportunity to review to ensure that the rules are conforming to the times and will make any changes necessary.
